

Book Vending Machine Grant Application

This application is available by invitation only. The SCSF will grant a book vending machine with books selected by the school and custom tokens to two (2) state charter elementary schools that serve low-income students. Schools will make books available through the vending machine free of cost to students as a part of a reading/literacy or PBIS program.

The SCSF will be evaluating grant applications based on need for the machine, potential impact on the school, integration of the machine into existing reading/literacy or PBIS programs, and the ability to maintain the machine and keep books stocked.

Please submit grant applications by 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, April 9, 2024. Grant applications must be submitted through the SCSF's grant portal. Please complete a profile (school information) in the grant portal. If you have used our grant portal previously, please make sure your profile is updated with the correct contact information. After completing the profile, click the "Get Started" box to begin your application. When you open the application in the portal, you will upload this completed document, answer any questions, and submit your application.

Please direct any questions about this opportunity/the SCSF grant portal to Molly Gassman (mgassman@scsfga.org).

Application Questions

1. Please explain the need for a book vending machine at your school.

2. How would a book vending machine enhance your school and improve elementary students' access to books?

3. How will a book vending machine be used in coordination with an existing/new reading/literacy program or PBIS/school culture program? Please explain how the machine would support/enhance the programs at your school.

4. How will your school restock the machine with books? Where will funding for books come from? (The SCSF will assist schools with accessing discounted books.)

5. Please provide any additional information you would like the SCSF to consider.
